About Becky A. Crowe

Becky A. Crowe is an author, pastor, and dedicated servant of Christ who brings a warm, approachable voice to Christian discipleship literature. Living in Michigan with her husband, the two serve as co-pastors of Springfield Assembly of God Church and channel their shared faith into every facet of their lives — from ministry to community outreach. Her inspiration for writing grew directly from working with new believers in homeless shelters and nursing homes, where she recognized a need for a clear, colorful, and accessible introduction to biblical principles.

Drawing from years of pastoral experience and a deep love of Scripture, Crowe crafted a guide that meets new Christians exactly where they are — at the beginning of a life-changing journey. Her goal is to make God's Word accessible to all, equipping readers with foundational truths that can support a lifetime of faith and spiritual growth.

Behind the Book

A-Z From God to Thee: A New Christian's Guide to the Way uses each letter of the alphabet to introduce a key biblical principle, paired with three supporting Scripture references — making the Word of God approachable and memorable for every new believer.
